

Lo! the day is deep'ning

William F. Sudds (1843-1920)

Lo! the day is deepening;
Night is nigh at hand;
Shadows fall, and darken
Over sea and land;
Storm and shine are ended,
Toil is past and blest;
Take thy welcome slumber,
Take thy well-won rest.

Lo! the years are closing;
Night is nigh for thee;
When, like earth and ocean,
Thou at peace shall be;
Fold thy hands together,
Lay them on thy breast;
Thou hast done thy life work,
Enter into rest.

Frederic Edward Weatherly (1848-1929)

W. F. Sudds
(1882)

William F. Sudds (1843-1920) was born in London, England. When he was seven, the family moved across the Atlantic and settled on a farm in Gouverneur, New York. By age fifteen, he had taught himself the violin, cello, guitar and cornet. He also took advantage of an offer to use a friend's piano, although it meant a three-mile walk after his day's work. Enlisting in the Civil War, he was ordered to report as a musician and eventually became a bandmaster. He arranged and composed many pieces for the band. During the later part of the war, he took his first piano lessons from a French woman in New Orleans. After the war, he trained at the Boston Conservatory of Music. He returned to Gouverneur and established himself as a teacher, composer and music publisher. He directed choruses and orchestras for local events and was the director of the Choral Union of Gouverneur. His compositions include orchestral works, pieces for piano, church music, songs and part-songs. He published many method books and instructional collections including the "Modern Method for the Reed Organ." His music and writings gained great recognition throughout the country. That popularity was manifest by the appearance of a riddle in the "Youth's Companion" magazine: "What composer is found in every washtub?"

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
