

In one har-mo-nious cheer-ful song, Ye hap-py saints, com-bine;

In one har-mo-nious cheer-ful song, Ye hap-py saints, com-bine;

In one har-mo-nious cheer-ful song, Ye hap-py saints, com-bine;

In one har-mo-nious cheer-ful song, Ye hap-py saints, com-bine;

5 Loud let it sound from ev'-ry tongue, The Sav-iour is di-vine The

Loud let it sound from ev'-ry tongue, The

Loud let it sound from ev'-ry tongue,

Loud let it sound from ev'-ry tongue, The Sav-iour is di-

8 Sav-iour is di-vine The Sav-iour is di-vine.

Sav-iour is di-vine The Sav-iour is di-vine

The Sav-iour is di-vine The Sav-iour is di-vine

vine The Sav-iour is di-vine The Sav-iour is di-vine.

2 The least, the feeblest of the sheep
To him the father gave;
Kind is his heart the charge to keep,
And strong his arm to save

3 In Christ th'almighty Father dwells,
And Christ and he are one;
The rebel power, which Christ assails,
Attacks th' eternal throne.

4 That hand which heaven and earth sustains,
And bars the gates of hell,
And rivets Satan down in chains,
Shall guard his chosen well.

5 Now let th' infernal lion roar,
How vain his threats appear!
When he can match Jehovah's power,
I will begin to fear.